Bailie Beach Lodge is located on the east side of Mattituck Inlet. The park has a quiet sandy beach, dunes, and a tidal wetland natural area that are home to a variety of birds and other wildlife. Bailie Beach Lodge is located in an upland area, overlooking the Long Island Sound. Local Boy Scout and Girl Scout Troops frequently use this park and beach area. Non-resident Scout troops have enjoyed the Lodge for many years, and may use this facility for a nominal fee.

There is a large commercial kitchen that has a microwave, coffeepots and some cooking utensils. Most Scout Troops come well prepared with their own dinnerware and cooking utensils, and plan meals in advance of their visit. The main hall is equipped with tables and chairs for dining, with ample room for the scouts to sleep and work on projects. There are two restrooms, one with a shower. There is parking on-site, and a garbage bin for trash disposal. Scouts are expected to leave the Lodge in an “As Clean—or Cleaner Condition” than they found it. This prime waterfront location has panoramic views of the inlet and creek as well as Long Island Sound, and a treasure of ventures for scouts to discover and enjoy.
